AMOS HAYDON

With L. & N. as Special Agent.

Former officer Amos Haydon, of this city, has accepted a position as special agent for the L. & N. railroad company with headquarters at present in Evansville, Ind. Mr. Haydon was one of the best police officers this city ever had, and has as many friends in Hopkinsville and Christian county as any young man in the county, all of whom will read with pleasure of his recent promotion.

THE REVIVAL HAS BEGUN.

Reception at Baptist Church
Was Very Largely Attended.

BIG CROWDS SUNDAY.

Singer R. B. Holden, of Chicago, Is in Charge of the Music.

Rev. M. A. Jenkins, the new pastor of the Baptist church, was given a most cordial reception Friday night by his church. The seats were cleared from the Sunday School room and Mr. Jenkins received his members standing in this room. Brick ice cream and cake were served by committees of ladies from the small rooms in the East end of the Sunday School rooms. Of the 600 members of the church a large majority attended the reception. Refreshments had been prepared for 500 and the attendance was close to the estimate.

In the main auditorium Rev. Edmund Harrison formally welcomed Dr. Jenkins on behalf of the church and Eld. H. D. Smith welcomed him on behalf of the other ministers of the city and spoke feelingly of his predecessor, Dr. Nash.

Dr. Jenkins responded in a brief and appropriate talk, thanking the members for their presence and cordiality.

Sunday morning at eleven o'clock Dr. Jenkins preached his first sermon, taking his text from Luke 11:1 and Heb. 13:6. The subject of his discourse was prayer, and it was heard by a congregation that overflowed the auditorium and many found seats in the Sunday School room. The services closed with a general hand-shaking, in which the pastor said he wanted "to shake the hand of every member upon whom he could lean, not only in this meeting but throughout his ministry."

Another sermon was preached at night and the meeting is now well under way.

Mr. R. B. Holden, a young singer from Chicago, has charge of the singing and is using the famous Towne-Alexander books. This feature of the meeting will be given special attention under Mr. Holden's capable direction. A strong chorus has been organized to assist the singer.

Services will be held every morning at 10 and every evening at 7 o'clock, except on Saturday when only one service will be held and that at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, especially for children under six years of age.

Dr. Jenkins says he cannot tell how long the meeting will continue. It will go on as long as the Lord's blessing is upon it.

Cayce-Edmundson.

On Saturday a marriage license was granted Clarence Cayce and Miss Fredonia Edmundson. The parties live not far from Lafayette.

CORPORATIONS COMMITTEE

Held the Floor at the Council Meeting Friday Night.

NEW CONTRACTS MADE.

Street Lights Reduced to $70 Each and Water Company Makes Concessions.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Council Friday night was short, but some important business was transacted. The Mayor presided and all of the Councilmen except Mr. Davis were present.

Chairman Ware, of the Corporations Committee, submitted new contracts with the City Light Co. and the Hopkinsville Water Co., which were ratified by the Council by unanimous vote. The two contracts give 13 additional street lights to be located within 30 days and 110 fire plugs, in accordance with a readjustment to be made and several of the present hydrants to be moved to locations where experience has shown that they are more needed.

The City Light Co. now furnishes 75 street lights at $75 and three new ones at the same price were recently ordered in Dec. 1st, these 80 lights to cost $6,000. The new contract increases the number to 90 lights and the price of all is reduced to $70, making them cost $6,300, or $30 per light for the 10 new lights. A new system is to be installed and improved service given in every way. The contract is for one year with a recommendation that it be renewed annually for five years.

The 110 hydrants furnished the city by the Water Company are to cost $4,320 instead of $4,500 as heretofore. The price for 102 is $40 and for the rest and all additional ones that may be put in, $30 each. Two of the $40 hydrants for the protection of the Court House are paid for by the county. The two contracts are practically the same as heretofore, with the increased service demanded by the growth of the city.

The Light contract expired last June and the Water contract has been continued without a formal renewal for several years. Both new contracts are to be dated Nov. 15, 1906, the lights to be paid for monthly and the water semi-annually.

An appropriation was made for 25 per cent of the City Assessor's salary, due this month.

The Mayor reported to the Council that he had suspended the pool-room license of W. Berry, col., on account of a shooting affray in the pool-room, but the Council voted to re-instate the license on a monthly basis, as there were some mitigating circumstances.

WARFIELD-RADFORD.

Popular Young Couple Will Wed Tonight.

The marriage of Mr. Presley Edward Warfield and Miss Charlie Almeda Radford, daughter of Mrs. Ann Radford, will take place this evening at the bride's home near Casky. Both the bride and groom are popular in that portion of the county, representing as they do, two of the most prominent families of the county. The announcement to the long list of interesting matrimonial events of the last thirty days. They will reside at Casky.

Negro Shot.

Ed Barker, col., shot and perhaps fatally wounded Perry Oldham, col., in an affray in Kirkpatrick's saloon on Sixth Street, yesterday afternoon. Several shots were fired, one taking effect in the stomach and the other in the hand of Oldham. Barker escaped.

The Rivals.

By CHAS. SLOAN REID.

(Copyright, 1906, by Lloyd Jones & Co.)

The "Candy Breakin'" at Amos Swoffard's was in progress. Pretty Ann Swoffard was boiling the sorghum and when the kettle was ready to be taken from the fire the girl's two lovers stood ready to assist her, one on either side. Zeke Pendley was a big, broad-shouldered handsome fellow, but there was just a little something wanting in his character. Lige Burton was awkward, honest and ugly. Ann was deeply agitated over the situation. She glanced quickly from one to the other of the rivals, then hesitatingly turned toward Zeke. Lige's eyes felt, and he felt a sudden sickness at heart. But he arose and his frame grew wonderfully erect for a moment, as Zeke removed the kettle from the fire.

After the contents of the kettle had been distributed, then men began to choose partners for the pulling. Ann was trembling. She feared a repetition of the thing which had happened at the candy breakin' and she dreaded it. She was not ready to make so pointed a decision; for she had learned to rely upon Lige Burton's friendship, though she admitted Zeke Pendley's good looks. But fate was a guest of the candy breakin', and before Ann could realize how it had happened again she was standing between Zeke and Lige—and both were asking her favor at the same time. Ann was ready to burst into tears; but biting her lip and suppressing its quivering, she gave her hand to Zeke.

"Was it you that spoke first?" she asked.

It was Lige who answered her question, as he thrust his hands into his pockets and sadly turned away.

"Yes, Ann," he said, "I reckon Zeke was ahead of me."

The moon had climbed far over the mountain when Lige left Amos Swoffard's. He was the first of the guests to depart, and he crept along up the trail in no hurry to get home.

Lige Burton and Zeke Pendley were foremen at the Clay Hill mines, and they had to use considerable argument to induce some members of their respective squads to follow them into the old Hellhole tunnel which had been reopened on the morning after the candy breakin' and the Swoffard's had installed a powerful pump which had the capacity of relieving the tunnel of over 3,000 gallons of water per minute. As long as this pump was working the strain could be turned up through the deep shaft and out upon the side of the mountain, leaving the men to work in safety.

Only a few days after the opening a sudden rush of water submerged the feet of the miners, and a great shout came down the shaft: All hands out of the Hellhole!

The big new pump, for some unaccountable reason, had stopped working, and the mine was fast becoming flooded. The ore bucket came rattling down the shaft and the men, three at a time, began to ascend. The two foremen brought up the rear of the procession.

Up went the bucket a second time and when it descended again the water had reached the men's waists. At the third descent Zeke Pendley made a movement to crowd through the other miners toward the tub but Lige seized his arm.

"We go up last, Zeke," he said; "I don't reckon ye ever heard of a captain a quittin' his crew, did ye?"

Zeke fell back and the tub arose and descended once more. Again and again the ore bucket rose with its human freight, and descended empty, and in the meantime those still waiting had been swept off of their feet standing at the bottom of the shaft and were struggling hard to keep their heads above water. And the camp was slowly stealing upon their limbs.

"The man at stays here much longer will have to be fished out," growled Zeke, as once more he made an effort to reach the bucket ahead of some of his fellows.

"Well, we're goin' to risk it," said Lige, again restraining his fellow foreman, while sustaining himself in the water.

Like drowning rats in a rain barrel men will have to be fished out," growled Zeke, as once more he made an effort to reach the bucket ahead of some of his fellows. "Well, we're goin' to risk it," said Lige, again restraining his fellow foreman, while sustaining himself in the water.

"Zeke, an' me'll wait," said Lige and the bucket arose.

Up, up, up it went, bearing three more human beings to safety and leaving two to continue the uncertain struggle until it could descend again. A malignant, tooth-pulling, eye was turned upon Lige Burton in the semi-gloom of the hole, but no sound was uttered. Lige's rare suppleness and activity gave him somewhat the advantage of his fellow foreman in this peculiar struggle, and he felt hopeful of holding out until the bucket could descend again. But Zeke's great strength had reached so near to the limit of endurance that he realized the proximity of death.

"I reckon it's a—up w' me," he exclaimed weakly before the tub had had time to reach the top of the shaft.

Lige heard him, and, contriving to come near him in the water, gave the big man a little support.

"Hold yer grip, Zeke," he said, close to his ear. "Ye've got to hold yer grip—ain't ye a thinkin' on Ann?"

At that moment both men heard the bucket released at the top of the shaft and it was descending rapidly, wildly for those above realized the necessity for haste. But the tub had had an awkward start and it came bouncing terrifically from one side of the hole to the other, and at a depth of 200 feet it struck upon a sharp, projecting stone with such sudden force that it instantly stopped.

Zeke's head for a moment sank below the surface of the water. But Lige sank with him and shoved him to the top again.

"Hold yer grip, I tell ye," Burton hissed into Zeke's ear; "the rope's a comin' on."

And the rope with the ball of the bucket a moment later touched Lige's head.

"Here, Zeke, dern ye, lend a jerk or two," muttered Lige, as he snatched the rope.

But Zeke had stiffened with the cold; and though he seemed to make an effort, he could do no more than barely sustain himself.

"Can't but one on us go," continued Lige, as Zeke, on account of Ann, it's goin' to be you. An' dern yer big hide, Zeke, listen at what I'm tellin' ye, while I git this rope tide round ye. If I can do it, in my cabin, Zeke, big rock—in—heart—raise—it—it's just a little I been savin'. Give it to Ann—weddin' present—from Lige—unhuh!"

Lige gave the faint jerk which signalled those above: the rope tightened about Zeke's body, and he arose from the water.

"An' Zeke," it was Lige's voice once more, though now very faint and broken, "dern ye—if ye—don't—treat—er—good—I'll ha't ye—Zeke—dern ye—dye hear?"

A gurgling succeeded, borne faintly up to Zeke's ear in awful conclusion.

When the half-frozen body of Pendley was landed above the rope again descended into the shaft. But some time elapsed without a signal jerk—and it was drawn up again unburdened.

The Weather.

Bulletin issued yesterday: Rain, turning to snow and colder Tuesday.

Ambrose Thomas, president of the advertising firm of Lord & Thomas, Chicago, dropped dead last week. He was 55 years old.

James Capshaw lay in the pouring rain, on the roadside near Bowling Green, for thirty-six hours, with five wounds in his head, which may cause his death. A companion has been arrested.

In an interview at San Antonio, Tex., W. R. Hearst said that he will never again be a candidate, though he will continue to advocate the principles for which he has made a fight.

President Roosevelt has left Panama for Porto Rico. In leaving Panama, he said he was so impressed with the magnitude of the project that he would like to have one of his sons identified with it.

Friends of E. T. Franks, Internal Revenue Collector in the Second district, have started a boom for him for the Republican nomination for Governor of Kentucky and claim that he will win the nomination in a walk.

The Pullman car company has "cut another melon" as they call it, by distributing $25,000,000 of its accumulated surplus to the stockholders. And still the company allows its porters to prey upon the traveling public.

Wm H. Jackson, a Republican Congressman-elect of Maryland, in an interview admits that his election was secured by the corrupt use of money. He says many voters on the Eastern shore will not vote unless they get something for their votes. He says in his district the Democrats used whisky and the Republicans used money instead of whisky.

Three years ago when the editor of the Kentuckian led his famous "forlorn hope" and "fit, bled and died" in opposition to a State primary election, the editor of the Glasgow Times was the first, the foremost and the ablest champion the primary had in all Kentucky. But the irony of fate, in three short years, has overtaken Jim Richardson and moved him to testify that he owes his retirement from Congress to the same primary law. We are sorry for you, Jim, but you are not the first man to be "hoisted on his own petard."

RAIN AND ELECTRICITY

Play Havoc With Telephones All Round Town.

LIVE WIRE ON STREET.

Home Gets Badly "Knocked Out," Cumberland Lucky.

The rain, that began to fall last Saturday morning at 3 o'clock, was the first real downpour in several weeks. September 26th, the day Barnum & Bailey's circus was to exhibit here, was a notable one, as it rained so hard during the entire day that, after partly unloading, the management announced that no exhibition would be given, something never before known in Hopkinsville.

There was practically no rain until last Saturday when it came down in torrents pretty much all day and there was not a moment when some rain was not falling. Sunday morning but little rain fell but it began again in the afternoon and up to yesterday morning Weather Clerk Randle reported that the fall had been 6.10 inches.

All the streams in the county were very much swollen and Little river at one time was out of its banks.

We have heard of no damage in the country, but in the city trouble was reported by many of the patrons of the Home Telephone Company.

Their cable at Ninth and Main was submerged and a man arrived here yesterday morning from Seymour, Indiana, to remedy the difficulty. The company said yesterday morning that subscribers might expect their "phones to be in operation by this morning."

A pump had to be run all day Sunday at the Acme Mills to keep the water from filling up the fly wheel pit.

A few fellows in different parts of the city were filled, but the damage to the Home Telephone Company was the most serious loss.

The cable at Ninth and Main contains over 800 wires and contact with water puts some of the "phones out," as the electricians term breaking connection.

A fire started out on O'Neal Ave. yesterday morning and some one attempted to turn in the alarm but the trouble with the "Home" and 9th and Main prevented communication with the fire department. Luckily the fire was put out without the department.

Mr. J. D. Russell, manager of the Cumberland Telephone Co., was seen and he said that about sixty of the Company's phones were put out of business by the burning of fuses, but they were nearly all in working order yesterday at noon. The real loss to the Company didn't amount to scarcely anything in money.

On West 19th street a live wire of the City Light Co.'s came in contact with a tree in Mrs. J. M. Cravens' yard and the wire, after burning about a half hour, fell to the ground. It laid in the street about an hour, but fortunately no one touched it, as the parties living near by watched the street and never let the passers by get upon the live wire, if they had it would probably have meant death to them. The wire fell about 6:30 and the Company were promptly notified and arrived about 6:30 and tied the wire and raised it from the street. It had not been repaired at noon yesterday.

NEW TAX PENALTIES

Increase a $10 Tax Bill to $14.33 In Thirty Days.

YOU'LL HAVE TO HURRY.

Poll Taxes Increased 200 Per Cent If Not Paid This Month.

The new provisions of the tax law have caused a great rush of tax payers to escape the heavy penalties imposed upon delinquents. County clerk Campbell is now busy making out tax warrants for Sheriff David Smith.

The taxes are so piled up with costs that a $10 tax bill by Dec. 1st be increased to $14.33.

Of this increase of 43 per cent, 60 cents is the Nov. 1st penalty, Nov. 15th the interest, 3 cents, is added and Nov. 20th the clerk's fee of $1.50 for insuring the tax warrants; Dec. 1st the sheriff's execution fee of 60 cents and a charge of $1 for advertising and a further commission of 60 cents for collecting are added. On larger amounts the percentage charges vary, but the fees are the same. On a poll tax of $1.50 the costs run it up to $5.13.

Nearly all of the increase goes to the officers and the state gets but little benefit except in the enforcement of collection. The Paducah Register says in that county the law is construed to mean that the fees may be added for both county and state taxes. Two warrants are thus made out, with two duplicates to keep on file.

BISHOP WOODCOCK

Preached at Grace Church Last Sunday.

Bishop Woodcock, of Louisville, preached at Grace Episcopal church last Sunday morning and evening to good congregations. It was expected that a large class would be confirmed, but owing to the inclement weather but one was present. The remainder will be admitted into the church at some future occasion.

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

We will send you a sample free. Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy. Scott & Bowman, Chemists, 409 Pearl St., N. Y. 10 cents and 50c. all druggists.

AMUSEMENTS

The DeFew-Burdette Company opened a week's engagement at Holland's Opera House last night before a good sized and appreciative audience. "A Man of Mystery", a delightful comedy drama, was the bill. The play offered all the members of the company opportunities and there was a dash of sensational as well as lively comedy throughout. Thomas E. DeFew is a clever comedian and W. T. Burdette is an artist of ability. The specialties were all of a high class. Miss Dupee, the buck and wing dancer, is one of the cleverest little women ever seen in Hopkinsville, and her work was most appreciable. The company carries a large amount of special scenery, which adds to the pleasure of the productions. The organization is much stronger than most repertoire companies and their plays are well presented from start to finish.

Tonight "The New York Detective" will be the bill and it is safe to predict a good house on the occasion.

POULTRY SHOW

Will Be Held at Pembroke Christmas Week.

The thoroughbred poultry breeders of Pembroke and vicinity have organized the Pembroke Poultry Association, and will give their first annual exhibit Dec. 27, 28 and 29. The President of the new Association is Mr. W. S. Dickinson, and the Secretary is Mrs. Phillips. There are many enthusiastic "chicken cranks" in that section, and a big and successful show may be looked for. Judge D. T. Heimlich, of Jacksonville, Ill., will place the awards. He is one of the leading judges in the United States.

The Pembroke people have been making a success of their horse show for several years, and we are glad to see that they are turning their attention to the more important and practical industry of poultry breeding.

SIX ARRESTS.

Three Had Guns and Were Fined $27.50 Each.

The police force got on their muscle Saturday and made six arrests. Three were arrested for carrying concealed weapons, one for breach of the peace, one on the charge of robbing a man who was asleep in a shooting gallery. From what the officers say the man's pistol cost him $4, as that was the amount taken from his pocket while he was in dreamland.

FARMERS' PROBLEMS

The Kentucky State Union and the A. S. of E. Dept. of tobacco growers united in a request to the Commissioner of Agriculture of Kentucky to include the subject of marketing farm crops on all the farmers' institute programs for the next season. The commissioner very kindly promised to do this.

The Minnesota State Union of the American Society of Equity was organized in the Hall of Representatives, old capital, St. Paul, Oct. 17, 1906. An earnest spirit prevailed and practical work was formulated for the advance of the society's work in that part of America.

ORGANIZE BY CROPS.

In the future it will be the plan of the A. S. of E. to organize by particular crops and instead of making its efforts general, as in the past, it will seek out the heavy producing sections for a crop or crops and then throw all its energies into these sections. The wisdom of such a plan can be seen in the tobacco and peanut districts. There are two crops in which the growers are in control.

The peanut growers will control this year's crop. Tobacco has been under sufficient control for two years to compel the prices in these districts. There is no trouble about backsliding or locals going to sleep. They are constantly wide awake, because they have business to do and they see the benefits.

We will now undertake larger propositions. For instance, wheat, potatoes and apples all offer inviting fields; also cotton needs the A. S. of E. plan of controlling and directing marketing.

Completed at the annual meeting was a map shaded to represent the heavy producing sections for wheat and other crops. A study of the map was a strong object lesson to show how comparatively small is the territory that will meet to be organized to secure as definite results for any crop. The field gradually narrows down and soon the whole country can be organized, although every important crop will be under control and prices definitely made.

Postmaster Robbed.

G. W. Fouts, Postmaster at Riverton, Ia., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For 20 years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters, which cured me and have kept me well for eleven years." "Sure cure for Biliousness, Neuralgia, Weakness, and all Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bladder derangements. A wonderful Tonic. At R. C. Hardwick, Drug store 50c."

Last Chance.

If the force which have had so strong a grip on the Legislature, the State department and the party machinery are able to stop Mr. Hughes—and they will try their very hardest—from doing what he means to do, "the Republican party will be," says the New York Press in tones of grave admonition, "damned beyond redemption, and nothing can save it, for this is the last chance the voters will give it to make good."

NO GAME

Of Football But Boys Had Basketball Contest.

The game of football between the Paducah High School eleven and the local Public High School team, scheduled for Saturday afternoon, was not played on account of the rain. The Paducah boys arrived here at 5:25 a. m. Saturday, but there was a continuous downpour throughout the day and the contest was therefore declared off. It was decided, however, to have a game of basketball Saturday night at Moynon's Hall to help pay the expenses of transportation of the visiting team, which was met by the local eleven. This game was between the Paducah High School and a Hopkinsville team, the latter being composed of the following: Catchlin, I. F.; Bell, R. F.; Earle, C.; Holland, G.; Bartley, I. G. Hopkinsville defeated the visitors, the score being 14 to 5. A fairly good sized crowd, considering the inclement night, witnessed the contest.

The Paducah boys returned home Sunday morning.

Rev. H. C. McGill, of Howell, Ky., has accepted the pastorate of the Baptist church at Providence, Ky., and will assume his duties on the first Sunday in December. He went to Providence last week to make arrangements for a home. His successor as pastor at Olivet church has not yet been considered.

INJUNCTION

Asked Against Todd County Officials.

Several suits have been filed at Ekton, the purpose of which is to enjoin the Todd County officials from holding a prohibition election in that county on Dec. 7.

The main ground set up in the petition asking the injunction is that after the filing of the county petitions certain signers who had put their names to these petitions asked the court that their names be withdrawn, giving as a reason that they did not know the purport of such petitions at the time they signed them, and that they are not, in fact, desirous of holding an election in the whole county. These signers are from Guthrie and Adairville, and it is claimed that if their names were withdrawn there would not be a sufficient number of signers to justify the calling of the county election.

CHRYSANTHEMUMSHOW

Is in Full Blast at Clarksville This Week.

The annual Chrysanthemum Show at Clarksville is in progress this week, with a very fine display of flowers. The exhibit is in a large building and the admission is only 10 cents. The management has designated Thursday as "Hopkinsville Day," and hopes to see a large excursion from this city. As the railroads will give a liberal rate, a big crowd of the lovers of flowers should avail themselves of the opportunity to visit Clarksville and see this handsome flower show.

The exhibit is said to be the finest ever brought together there and the show is well worth a trip to Clarksville to see it.

DO YOU GET UP

WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable. Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but it has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to know if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

MISPLACED RICE.

Fellow Passengers Treated as Bride and Groom by Jolly Crowd.

Sunday night Miss Janie Graham left for Chicago to visit her aunt, Mrs. Bel. On the same train Phelps Cowan, a former Hopkinsville boy who had been here on a visit, returned to his home in Chicago. In order to play a practical joke on the young people, who have never been suspected of being sweethearts, a party of their young friends who went to the train to see them off, passed them off as bride and groom, much to their surprise and embarrassment. As the train pulled in they noisily cleared the way for the bride and groom, showered congratulations upon them and pelted them with rice as they boarded the train. The passengers were much interested in the handsome groom (?) and pretty bride (?) and everybody in the car greeted the happy (?) couple with a pleasant smile.

Judge and Mrs. James Breathitt left for Chicago at the same time, and finally relieved the embarrassment by testifying to the fact that the young couple were not married, but were only the victims of a practical joke.

REPORTED DEATH

Of John W. Logsdon Caused By Misreading of Telegram.

A rumor was current on the streets Sunday that Mr. John W. Logsdon had died at a hospital in Evansville. A message passed over the wire that Mr. Logsdon's father had died at his home at Horse Cave. Mr. John Logsdon has been in feeble health for several months and had been under treatment in an Evansville hospital, but he is now at his home and confined to his room. His father was quite an old man and his death was not unexpected. Young Mr. Logsdon is Superintendent of this division of the L. & N., and has scores of friends here who sympathize with him in the loss of his father, but will be glad to know that the Superintendent is now on a way to early recovery.

EWING PROCLAIMS

A Day of Thanksgiving For the Tobacco Association.

To the Members of The Planters' Protective Association of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia. (Incorporated.)

Whereas, The Presidents of the United States are pleased to follow the beautiful custom of emphasizing the national gratitude of Almighty God for His care and bounteous kindness to the country by public proclamation setting apart some day in every November as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer,

And Whereas, Our ancestors were sincere worshippers of the living God and fully realized their obligations and duties to Him,

And Whereas, Our Association has made such wonderful successful progress, that has redounded to our benefit against such overwhelming forces of intellect and wealth combined,

And Whereas, In Holy Writ we learn that "either he that planteth is anything, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase,"

Therefore, Let us as one Common Body of Tobacco Planters demonstrate our gratitude to Jehovah by observing "in spirit and in truth" Thursday, November 29th inst, the day of Thanksgiving, as proclaimed for that purpose by President Roosevelt on October 22th, 1906, at Washington, D. C.

In so doing we are strengthened in every possible sense, as we are but naturally performing our duty; for we are thoroughly persuaded that there is all to gain and nothing to lose by all people, unitedly and individually, realizing their obligations of gratitude to their Creator, Preserver and Benefactor.

The Ideal Family Laxative

is one that can be used by the entire family, young and old, weak and strong, without any danger of harmful effects. It should have properties which insure the same dose, always having the same effect, otherwise the quantity will have to be increased and finally lose its effect altogether. These properties can be found in that old family remedy, Branthrath's Pills, because its ingredients are of the purest herbal extracts, and every pill is kept for three years before being sold, which allows them to mellow. We do not believe there is a laxative on the market that is so carefully made.

Branthrath's Pills are the same fine laxative tonic pill your grandparents used. They have been in for over a century and are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

President Reeves Was Struck in Side by Shafts.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 17.—Forced to turn out of the street by pedestrians who tried to stop him, a horse attached to a delivery wagon of F. E. Metzger, a grocer, ran through a plate glass window in the front of the First National bank at the corner of Third and Broadway, smashed the customers' desk and knocked down the partition between the lobby and the president's office. President W. L. Reeves, who was seated at his desk, was struck in the side by one of the shafts, but was not seriously injured. The horse was so badly hurt that it was found necessary to shoot him. The damage to the bank will amount to about $500.

FIGHTS WITH A SHARK.

Hotel-keeper Encounters Animal and Battles Bare Handed.

Ever hear of a herring whipping a shark in an open sea battle? No? Well, go down to Coney Island and ask for Mr. Geary, a corpulent person kept at the island to make high tide when the water appears too low for good bathing, says the Indianapolis Star. Mr. Geary will show you the shark, three feet long, with its eyes blackened, its nose broken and dead upon the beach, where it took the count.

Mr. Hering keeps the Sea Gate Beach hotel. He decided to take a swim, and was 300 feet off shore when the shark was sighted. The shark at the time was swimming on his back to keep from swallowing too much water and at the same time keeping a sharp lookout for pompano and spaghetti.

Mr. Hering saw the shark first. Usually when a man sees a shark first the shark does not see the man if the man can help it. But with Hering it was different. He made for the shark, and just as though he were Joe Gans going in the ring with some second-rate fighter, he led for the shark and caught it by the left fin. Even with one fin the shark was still able to swim, and Mr. Hering, holding tight to one fin, managed to grasp the other.

In this manner, the shark being held in front of him and permitted to swim by the use of its tail, Mr. Hering headed for shore until he came across a piece of driftwood. The shark by this time was becoming tired of towing a large man ashore. Mr. Hering took the piece of driftwood and beat the shark about the head until it gave up and came ashore and took the count. It weighed 15 pounds.

A Matter of Belief.

John McGovern and John Ritchie, two well-known students and philosophers of Chicago University, were discussing beliefs, creeds and the like, at a club table one evening lately when Alf Sorenson, an Omaha newspaper man, remarked that he had known men in the west who were exiles to the far and woolly region on account of their belief and that they were not fanatics at all.

"What is their peculiar belief?" Mr. McGovern inquired.

"Well, sir," was Sorenson's reply, "they believe they would be hung if they staid in the east."

"And I have known men who could not get away from home," Ritchie returned, "on account of the belief of their neighbors."

"Yes," said McGovern, interrogatively.

"They were locked up because their neighbors believed things about them."

ARE KEEN OF SCENT

BLOODHOUNDS POPULAR IN SOUTH TO TRAIL CRIMINALS.

Method of Training Pups So That They Will Follow the Fugitive With Unerring Faithfulness.

In the south the bloodhound is still a favorite method of trailing the fugitive (live from justice, and in many sections the training of the dogs is carried on with the greatest of care, and is a most interesting and exciting process, especially for the one who leads the part of the fugitive and acts the dogs over the trail.

While they are called "bloodhounds," few of the southern dogs are full blood. The original ones were brought to America from eastern England a century ago, and the packs now owned by southern law officers are descendants of this breed, but usually have a strain of some other blood, such as that of the rabbit hound. Whether of full blood or mixed breed, however, some of the packs in Tennessee and Texas are noted throughout the southern states for their record of captures. The pack owned by the police authorities at Rusk, Tex., has done duty throughout the southwest chasing men in the great swamps south of the Brazos river, as well as across the prairie and through woodland. The Phipps pack, as it is called, includes several of the pure bloodhounds now in the south. They are owned by Deputy Sheriff Phipps, of Chattanooga, and are trained just as dogs are trained for "flushing" birds and the hunting of game.

When a few months old the bloodhound pup is "put on the scent." A negro boy is usually hired to take the part of the fugitive. The blood of an animal or some other substance which has considerable odor is smeared on his feet, and he starts away along the road or over a field. Then the blood or other substance is held to the dog's nose. He is led to the point where the boy started and thus put on the trail. Care is taken to give the boy ten or 15 minutes' rest. The run is usually only a mile or two long, and at the end of it is a tree which he can easily climb. Seldom is the dog "broken off" the scent, as if it is the first chase, and although the negro may have reached the tree before the dog starts, in a few minutes the latter is beneath it baying to announce his discovery.

After a few runs of this sort the dog becomes so skilful that he can follow the fugitive merely by his natural scent. Thus a course is laid out which is far more difficult. It passes over sand, which will retain little of the scent; is laid across a stream of water, so that the dog has to run up and down the banks on each side before he can recover the scent he has lost in crossing.

A New York Tribune recently related an incident which illustrates the unerring accuracy with which the bloodhounds follow the scent. A "racket" store in a little town of northern Alabama had been broken open. Flour, sugar and other provisions had been taken away. There were no footprints or other signs to indicate the direction in which the thieves had gone. Sheriff Phipps and two of his dogs were summoned by telegraph and reached the place on the afternoon of the day the robbery had been discovered. The dogs were turned loose inside the store, and after running around a moment or so, sniffing at the broken boxes and barrels, they started for the door and headed for the railroad track which runs through the town. The sheriff, the town constable and other citizens followed in the rear of the dogs, which were held with cords. For miles after they went over the track. Night set in, but it was decided to keep up the pursuit. Finally a long trestle was reached, over which the dogs plied their way, the men following as best they could at the risk of tumbling into the ravine beneath. Finally, at about midnight, the hounds left the track, and running to the side of a water tank, uttered a series of short, sharp barks.

"That ought to mean that the thieves are in the tank, but I suppose it's all of water," said Sheriff Phipps. "I reckon they might be," said one of the men in the party. "That tank sprung a leak some time ago and has not been used since."

"Well, we will soon see," said Phipps. "The rest of you form a circle around the tank. I will climb to the top and take a look inside."

The sheriff crawled up to the top of the cylinder, and striking a match held it inside and leaned over.

"The dogs were right," he exclaimed. "There's the loot."

Do You Feel Chilly, Then Feverish and Ache all Over?

Feel Worn-out, Blue and Tired? Have You a Fresh Cold, With Frequent Hacking Cough? Sensation of Soreness in the Chest or Back?

Don't let your case run into bronchitis, or some other obstinate and dangerous malady. The very best medicine to take in such a case is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Made without alcohol or dangerous drugs, it contains that rare combination of native medicinal roots that will ally a cough from it out, as it were, restore the circulation, assist the appetite and digest, and consequently restore tone to the entire system. That the reason people look happy even more after taking it—they feel like living, because their liver is active, the blood in their arteries is full of that life-giving quality-rich, red blood. The blood in turn feeds the nerves.

Nervousness and neuritis are only the indication that the nerves are not fed on invigorating blood. This "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce is nature's own restorer. It tones up the organism and invigorates its functions, furnishing to the body one of its necessary constituent principles of which it is in need.

This preparation is of pleasant taste, agrees perfectly with the stomach, and is extremely effective in restoring tone and vigor to the entire system. It cures troubles of the stomach and at the same time the blood. Vessels are given such a toning up as to throw off a cold. One very good reason why it restores the health of run-down, pale and nervous people is because it gets the blood flowing through the liver and kidneys. It then begins its work on the blood in building up fresh and making good, rich red blood.

Let us give you a strong recommendation for your thirty days, at times, writes Mr. J. H. Smith, of Kansas City, Mo.: "I have used medicine from several of our best physicians, but I could not get any relief. I was told that I would try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By the time the first bottle was gone, I felt some relief from my severe suffering continued until I had used four bottles of Golden Medical Discovery. I am truly thankful for the great benefit, and can cordially recommend it to others."

It Stands Alone not only in respect to its ingredients but also as the only medicine for stomach, liver and blood disorders, which is sold entirely PURELY VEGETABLE AND PERFECTLY HARMLESS. EXAMINE, WITH NO ALCOHOL.

It Stands Alone as the best of which take their patients fully into their confidence and tell them exactly what they are taking. This Dr. Pierce can afford to do, because his "Golden Medical Discovery" is made of such ingredients and after a working formula that has thousands of cures to its credit, placing its merits above criticism.

It Stands Alone as Nature's cure for many diseases and its ingredients are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Sene root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Mandrake root, and chemically pure glysterine.

Remember that Dr. Pierce's Original Little Liver Pills are the same as the Golden Medical Discovery. They are made of concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from native American plants and roots, therefore purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. One bottle for a stomachic, or stomach and bowel regulator, three tiny granules for a cathartic.

EDITOR BROWN

Arrested on Warrants Sworn Out by Preachers.

Phil Brown, the colored editor of the Morning News, is in a bad controversy with several Methodist preachers and as a result two of them last week had him arrested on criminal libel warrants and put under bonds of $100 to answer before the next grand jury.

Some time ago Brown wrote up a Nashville preacher named Phillips for his alleged attempt to collect money from Hopkinsville negroes to enable him to sue the city.

Another preacher named Parker was drawn into it and Brown criticised him so severely that Parker got out a warrant and later Rev. Moppins, the local Methodist pastor, also swore out one because of a roast given him.

Brown has editorially called upon Bishop Lane to remove Parker and has ridiculed Moppins unmercifully.

NOTED CASE

Comes to Close With a Queer Verdict.

The trial of the Youngs for the murder of a man named Wallace, near Weaver's Store, about eighteen months ago, has just been completed at Dover, Tenn. Old man Young and his wife were given thirty days in the work house. These defendants, together with their son, were tried for the same offense last court, the jury giving Mr. and Mrs. Young two years each in the penitentiary, and twenty years for their son. Mother and father were granted a new trial and the son appealed his case to the supreme court, where it is now pending.

Most of the witnesses in the case live in this county. The killing occurred near the State Line.

HAS GONE TO HER REWARD.

Mrs. R. M. Anderson Passed
Away Saturday Night.

END CAME SUDDENLY.

Was a Native of Shelby
County, Kentucky.

Mrs. Melissa Wood Anderson, wife of Mr. R. M. Anderson, died at her home on East Sixth street Saturday night of rheumatism of the heart. The end came rather suddenly about half-past 7 o'clock. She had been sitting up some during the day but was lying down when she passed away.

She had been an invalid for a year or more and was a great sufferer, but bore it with Christian fortitude.

The deceased was born near Shelbyville, Ky., December 30th, 1842, and was married to Mr. R. M. Anderson February 27th, 1866. Three daughters were born to them, who, with her husband, survive her. Her children are, Mrs. W. S. Elgin, now of Nortonville, Mrs. E. M. Moss and Mrs. F. F. Henderson, of this city. She also leaves five brothers and one sister.

Mrs. Anderson was a model Christian and was a member of the Baptist church, with which she united in early girlhood. She was everything that a wife and mother should be and was always faithful in the discharge of every duty as a church member, loved by her neighbors and gave much to those who needed her help.

Mr. Samuel Wood, a brother, of Louisville, and Mr. Thomas Money, who married a half-sister of Mrs. Anderson, arrived here Sunday night to attend her burial. Services were held at the residence yesterday at 2 p. m. by Dr. M. A. Jenkins and the remains were laid to rest in Hope-Well Cemetery.
